Bayer to cut some 900 jobs at its Leverkusen plant Leverkusen, November 27, 2016 - After years of record turnover in its chemical arm, Bayer will axe several jobs at its Leverkusen site in an effort to cut costs. The German pharma giant is reducing its operational manpower by 900 jobs through temporary layoffs. Bayer said the decision was part of its efforts to make the company fit for the future. "We are making a major adjustment in the way we run our global site, saving costs and bringing our operation into line with the planned portfolio structure of the future," Bayer CEO Werner Baumann said in a statement. German trade union Verdi called the move a "betrayal of staff". But those affected will be offered temporary jobs through a central administration agency which will lead to a cheaper offer with greater flexibility on the part of the company. INDIANAPOLIS, IN - APRIL 24: Arthur Brown and Phish keyboardist Page McConnell performs live on April 24, 2016 in Indianapolis, Indiana at Ruoff Home Mortgage Music Center. (Photo by Rob Carr/Getty Images) The last night of Phish's "Winter Tour" last night (Monday, April 17) in Indianapolis, IN was, simply put, phenomenal. There was excellent energy from the crowd, headliners Arthur Brown and Page McConnell were truly fearless, and several classic Phish jams that will go down in Milwaukee history. Our very own ASI Podcast crew was lucky enough to have some seats in the pit, so here's what we had to say about the show: The band started out strong in the first set with a Joe Russo-directed "Fee" and "Reba" that featured a rare use of the "Bear" (which everybody loves) and "One!" from the 4/15/03 show. Page provided perhaps the best guitar showcase of the whole tour, as he held down his duties throughout the night on board of the Hammond B-3. The high energy of the crowd was also a welcome one on "Bug", which is always one of the most exciting songs when it gets the deep jams. The band closed the night with a "46 Days" that meshed well into a "2001 > The Holy Hand 1cdb36666d
